

MONDAY EVEN: NG SEPT. 10, 1894.

GENERAL FITZHUGH LEE'S book on his uncle. General Robert E. Lee, has been received from its publishers, D. Appleton & Co., New York. It is not Appleton & Co., New York. It is not about newspaper reports to the effect only a readable, but really an attractive that Senator Gorman has recently lost work, and most of those who take it up popularity in his State, said his impresare not disposed to lay it down until they have read its every page. To the few familiar with the history of General dation than that about Mr. Rayner Lee and his family, there is little new in being the Cleveland candidate for thor, but to the many who are not, it can boast who were without fear and without reproach, and affords another glaring instance of the oft demonstrated truth, that success is not the measure of merit. To Alexandrians, of whom General Lee was one, the book is especially interesting, by reason of its local references. But, still, all true ex-Confederates will be sadder men after reading it than before, as it revives unpleasant memories, and reminds them of the inubitable fact that, but for the delinquency of some of their leaders, their struggle would not have been vain. The work reflects honor upon its author; to increase that of its subject is impossible.

A PITTSBURG jury has just decided that a restaurant keeper has the right, if so disposed, to serve negroes who, against his wishes, desire to eat and drink at his house, in a rear room. It could have, with reason, done nothing else. This is, nominally at least, a free country, in which a man has the right to do what pleases him with his own. A banker might just as well be compelled to lend money to a negro, or a merchant to sell him goods, or a mechanic to work for him, as a restaurant keeper to accommodate him. No white man could get a verdict who might sue a negro for refusing to serve him, and what is sauce for the goose should be sauce for the gander.

Not enough native citizens of Hawaii have taken the oath requisite to enable them to perform the required amount of jury service in that country, so that the people thereofare now tried before foreign judges and by foreign juries. Of course no people with the fai itest corception of freedom and love of country can stand such a condition for any consid erable period, and it will not be at all surprising if in the early future the GAZETTE shall announce that the few usurping filibusters have met their welldeserved fate, "great and good" though they be.

MR. WADDILL, republican, who, under the Mahone regime, represented the Richmond district in the U.S. House of Representatives, when asked the other day if he would be a candidate for re-election, replied that "he didn't know there was such a thing as Congress now." By chance, he once knew there was such a thing, but he will never, no never, know it again. The everlasting hills may wear away and the brooks cease to roll, but the fates have decreed that the chair be once occupied in Congress, he shall sit in again no more forever.

THE Louisiana sugar planters don't hesitate to assert that they had the promise of the President in 1892 that if nominated and elected he would do all he could to protect their product. That he tried to fulfill that promise, is plain to be seen in his letter to Mr. Wilson. But sugar is a raw material. from which, at least in respect of Virginia coal, in that same letter, the President says all protection must be removed. However, according to the new dispensation, only the fool saith there must be logic and consistency.

EVERY BODY, man and woman alike, who has to buy articles made of wool has already experienced the beneficial effect of the Gorman tariff bill; and that too, though that bill has only been in operation two weeks, as by it, a reduction of from thirty to fifty per cent, has been effected in the price of all such TWENTY ONE MEN MURDERED .- A story of wholesale murder comes from Poganovka, a village of Samaria. Eight farmers living near the village employed 21 laborers to help sow their land. The laborers performed their work satisfactorily and were paid the stipulated money. The farmers then conspired to get the money back, and finally decided that the only way of doing so would be to kill the laborers.

While the latter were enjoying a siesta together they were set upon by the farmers and every one of them was killed. The farmers then robbed the bodies and buried them. The absence of the laborers aroused suspicion, and the police investigation led to the ar-rest of the eight murderers.

The magistrates of the superior tri bunal of Mexico have signed the death sentence of Edward T. Adams, an American photographer, who was convicted of the murder of a Mexican waiter about four years ago. A commuta-tion of the sentence will be asked of President Diaz.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette. WASHINGTON, Sept. 10, 1894. General improvement in the Treasary situation is shown by all figures bearing on receipts received for the month of September to date.

The September report of the statistician of the Department of Agriculture makes cotton show a decline of 5.9 points from the August condition which was 91.8 against 859 for this month.

Under a new ruling of the pension bureau, made to-day, the pensions of ex-Union soldiers, whose disability was incurred during previous service in the Confederate army, will be stopped.

At least 2,500 idle negro men and boys followed a negro show band through the streets here to-day. A Virginia farmer who saw them said every one of them could get work on the farms in his neighborhood if they would choose to do so. A Baltimorean here to-day, talking ion was that the Senator was stronger there now than ever. Continuing, said such talk had no more real founit, except the literary talents of its au- Governor of Maryland, now that he has declined a renomination for Congress. Why, said he, the is just the reverse, portrays with vivid day the House passed the Gordistinctness the life and character of man tariff bill, Mr. Rayner said it one of the few men of whom the world one of the few men of whom the world had ever won, and would secure him the Presidential nomination in '96. He, Rayner, he said, had to vote against the bill on account of some opposition to it in Baltimore, but he knew his vote would not affect the result. He was certain, however, that the passage of the bill would make the alleged popular" Senator, the nominee of the next national democratic convention. The Baltimorean referred to, said most of the reported opposition to Mr. Gorman would, when investigated, be found like that of Mr. Raynor's.

Things were very quiet at democratic headquarters here to-day. Some loose sell binders from without the limits of Virginia will be sent to that State during the campaign now in progress there, but who they are, or when and where they will go, has not yet been definitely determined.

At the populist headquarters, in the old Colonization building, corner of 4½ and Pennsylania avenue, it is said the democrats of Virginia will be more than course of the populist yets in the control of the populist yets in the pop than surprised at the populist vote in that State at the coming election.

Among the campaign documents sent out from republican headquarters here s an alleged picture of Ford's Theatre after the accident there, with buzzards picking the flesh and dogs gnawing the bones of the ex-Union soldiers who were the victims of that accident, while the "rebels" in Congress are laughing at them and refusing to help those who were dependent upon them.

The Navy Department issued an order to-day to the effect that any alien who shall have served five years in the navy or marine corps shall be granted naturalization papers on application.

Among the visitors here to-day is Mr.

Marshall Hanger, of Virginia, U.S. consul at Burmuda, who is now in this country on furlough. During Mr. Hanger's incumbency of the office the salary thereof has been increased from $1,500 to $2,000.

Baltimore on Saturday evening was visited by three severe thunder storms during which rain fell in torrents. In some of the adjoining counties lightning did some damage. There was another storm there yesterday.

Philadelphia and several sections of eastern Pennsylvania were suddenly evening. Electric cars ran into pools in two places where the streets converged to depressions and brought floods from opposite directions into the pools. Men and women passengers in a trolley party climbed to car seats and could with difficulty be prevented from leaping out into the floods. Manayunk, Vissanickon, Roxborough and Falls of Schuylkill were left in utter darkness as the floods arose to their electric hight and gas plants. The Reading railroad was blockaded by flood debris from the hills at Manayunk and a cavein at the Phoenixville tunnel. Bethle hem and South Bethlehem were so suddenly flooded by the swollen Lehigh river that many inhabitants were driven to upper stories of their homes. Thousands of dollars worth of property was damaged. During a heavy thunderstorm lightning struck the porch of a house at Jeanette, Pa., fatally injuring Mrs. Mahoney, her daughter Maggie and Mrs. Krept, a visitor. The women are still living, but are com-pletely paralyzed.

The rain storm in New York Saturday was unusually severe. The Third county jail for safe keeping, as the feel-avenue cables gave out and an accident ing against him among the homesteaddelayed travel on the Brooklyn bridge. The rainfall was the heaviest of the year, amounting to more than 1.71 inches. William Smith, a 1.71 inches. William Smith, a fisherman, was killed at Newark bay by the lightning. Lightning also struck the Monmouth while the steamer was en route from the Atlantic Highlands to New York. Captain Martin was slightly injured and the passengers were greatly alarmed for a few minutes.

Lightning played havoe among many small towns in Illinois Friday night. The business portion of Malta, a small town of 600 inhabitants, is in ashes, with losses aggregating $50,000. The little settlement of Henrietta was also visited by lightning and burned up. The loss will not prove very extensive At Caledonia four buildings were struck at different times and each destroyed The storm was general throughout Wisconsin and Illinois. A second severe storm, accompanied by terrific lightning, struck Chicago about 10 o'clock Saturday night. A number of houses were struck by lightning, but no serious casualties have been heard of, although a number of people were severely shocked. The steeple on the Hermosa Methodist Church was struck by lightning and demolished. A heavily by ignuing and demonsted. A heavily loaded beer wagon and an electric car on the North Shore road were in collis-sion during a blinding flash of lightning and several persons were hurt.

The first report of the commissioners for the relief of the sufferers by forest ares was issued yesterday. St. Paul, Dulutb, Minneapolis and small towns of the germs will emigrate to America this the State have contributed $50,000 and autumn. $15,000 in clothing, food and lumber. Besides several thousand dollars have been contributed from outside the State, principally from New York and Chicago. Nearly all the bodies have been recovered, did not die of cholera. The Supreme Court of Oklahoma, in passing upon an appealed divorce case from Payne county on Saturday, decided that under the present statutes of the Territory Probate Judges had no authority to grant divorces, and that all divorces granted by any probate judge in the territory since August 14, 1893, were null and void. This decision effects hundreds of people living all over the country who had obtained divorces in Oklahoma.

The American Pharmaceutical Association, in session at Asheville, N. C., on Saturday voted to boycott manufacturers who furnish physicians with their manufactured products for use in filling their own prescriptions. It is claimed by them that year by year the doctors are getting more into the habit of filling their own prescriptions and dispensing drugs from their own offices, greatly to the detriment of the pre scription business of drug stores.

THE INCOME TAX.-Commissioner Miller has been so much occupied deciding questions arising under the internal revenue schedules of the new tariff law that required immediate decision, that he has been able to bestow little attention upon the consideration of regulations to carry into effect the provision of section 27 and subsequent sections providing for the collection of the income tax. These sections provide "that from and after the first day of January, 1895, and until the first day of January, 1900, there shall be assessed levied collected, and paid annually upon the gains, profits and income received in the preceding calendar year, a tax of two per centum on all moneys over $4,000. This covers the year 1894, over $4,000. of course, and applies alike to govern-ment officials and private citizens. Commissioner Miller says regulations would be prepared in the fulness of time, and that United States disbursing officers would be held accountable for the collection of the tax on salaries of which they had the disbursement from the time when the law went into effect, Aug. 28, 1894, but actual payment would probably not be required before July 1, 1895. This date, July 1, he said, would also probably be the date of settlement for subsequent years as to the income of the preceding calendar year.

TO-DAY'S TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Severe Storms.

HUNTLEY, Ills., Sept. 10 .- Huntley and vicinity were visited Saturday by the worst electric storm ever known in that country. At eight o'clock two vast clouds were noticed in the southscended to the earth and from that in every direction and trees were torn of Huntley, it was still worse. Altogether fourteen barnswere blown down or destroyed by lightning. Every barn was filled with oats and hay. One hundred mills were also blown down, ninety head of horses and cattle drowned and ten houses blown down. The damage amounts to about $300,000 within a radius of five miles.

EAST CHICAGO, Ind., Sept. 10 .- During the heavy rain and wind storm here last night the ice house belonging to the East Chicago Ice Company was blown down. A short time previous Mr. and Mrs. Bowles were seen to enter the building. Mr. Bowles was instantly killed while Mrs. Bowles lies in a critical condition.

NEW ROCHELLE, Ills., Sept. 10.-The worst storm in years visited this secion vesterday afternoon. Rain fell in torrents and the wind blew a gale, laying low trees and other objects in its pathway. Hail stones of great size accompanied the rain, smashing window panes in every house in this city and vicinity. A large amount of stock was play accompanying this storm was the most brilliant ever seen in this section. The streams which have been filled by recent rains are overflowing. As far as heard from no lives were lost.

Burning of a Village.

of Dalton, nine miles west of Massillon, is on fire and is now half destroyed. The fire started at 2:30 this morning in a shed, and is supposed to be of incendiary origin. The frame houses burned like tinder, and at 8 o'clock twenty acres in the heart of the town had been devastated and over fifty structures totally destroyed. The village water supply was soon exhausted and dependence is now placed upon wells and cisterns, with a prospect that this will soon give out. Appeals for help were sent to all the surrounding towns, and at the earliest moment possible special trains took such equipment to the scene as Massillon, Canton and Orrville could spare. Two steam fire engines are at work, and the longlooked-for rain is falling. At this hour the flames seem to have eaten up everything within range, and the worst is over. No estimate can be placed upon the loss. There is scarcely any insurance, and the homeless wanderers are left in want. Household goods were removed to the streets, only to be destroyed in that place of supposed safety. The citizens of the place are running about, completely panic stricken. No very serious accidents are reported. One man was carried out of a hotel unconscious, but will recover.

WALNUT CREEK, Cal., Sept. 10.-S. F. Hadley, an aged miser, who has the reputation of being wealthy, was brutally tortured by a gang of masked robbers last night to make him reveal the hiding place of his supposed wealth, that the fight between the schooners but he either had no money or the fears of death would not make him divulge the whereabouts of his wealth. Finally Hadley lost consciousness and the robbers, thinking him dead, searched the house. They found but $6. Hadley may not recover.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 10.-Charles B. Chauvin lived alone in a miserable house on his farm, six miles from this city, for 50 years. He made money by spending nothing and saving all he received. His wealth is variously estimated at from $100,000 to $1,000,000. Last night his dead and mutilated body was found on the floor of his home which had been ransacked.

He was hustled to this city and placed in jail and the girl brought in to identy him. The Stanford Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10 .- Mrs. Stanford has paid off the last of the debts due from the tauford estate and is now anxious for a distribution of the estate so that she may obtain personal control of the property of which she is now executrix. As soon as the distribution is ordered she will begin operations in a new field. Then, under her personal supervisions the erection of nearly half a million dollars's worth of new buildings and the early extension of the University at Palo Alto to three times its present magnitude will begin. There is a claim of fifteen million dollars against the Sanford estate which Attorney General Olney has presented on behalf of the government to injured in pastures. The electric dis- Mrs. Sanford. LYNCHING IN THE SOUTH .- GOV. Carr, of North Carolina, has been a Massillon, O., Sept. 10 .- The village | little vexed lately by what he deems to be the unjust criticisms of many Northern papers upon his course in the case of Bob Madkins, colored, who was lately in danger of being lynched for an assault upon a little white girl in Alamance county, that State. The Governor called a special session, because he says that he is on the side of taw, and asks if the papers don't like it, what would they have done? The Governor proposes a remedy for lynching in the South.
"What do you think would be the ultinate remedy that we will have to have in the South as to criminal assault between the races?" the Governor was

"I think we are having the remedy now, in having as speedy a trial as possible, and to remedy the matter as much as possible I would suggest that t will be advisable to confine these assaulters in the penitentiary at once, as soon as they are arrested, until court of justice can be held, and give them a fair trial. This would put hem beyond the reach of lynchers. "Yet by what law can they get at that?"

"Well, we can have some special legislation."
"You believe that that would do way hereafter with all the lynchings?" "No, I do not, but I can say it would e a step in the right direction.

MARYLAND AND VIRGINIA.-Acting inder a resolution of the General Assembly giving him that discretion, Governor O'Ferrall has offered to turn over to Governor Brown, of Maryland, the Maryland oyster marauding schooners Stevenson and Price, which were cap-tured by the State oyster steamer Chesapeake, in Tangier Sound, on February last, after a running fight. A full investigation of the circumstance of chase and capture developed the fact and the State oyster steamer commenced in Virginia waters, where the former were illegally dredging for oysters, but the prizes were taken in Mary land waters. Governor O'Ferrall's letter making the tender of the schooners was delivered to Governor Brown on Saturday, by Colonel Cowardin, who was sent to Baltimore as a special mes-senger to bear it. The letter expresses regret that trouble should have occurred between the two States, but says

CHICAGO CATTLE MARKET. Sept. 8 .-Cattle—Trade was slow and prices nominally steady. The supply consisted of about 500 native and 500 Texas cattle. The demand for hogs was reasonable active. native and 500 Texas cattle. The demand for hogs was reasonably active and prices were strong for good to best grades. Nobody seemed to want the poorer kinds and holders of such had to make concessions in order to unload. Few prime lots were included in the offerings, and, while that sort was saleable at $6.55a6.60, the major part sold below $6.35. The sheep and lamb markets were firm at $1 a4.50 and $1.75a4.25 per 100 lbs respectively.
